Johnny Watkins, television farm commentator, is starting a column in this edition of your Herald, Page 2, along with other editorial comment.

He has run a weekday noon 30-minute news and talk show for about 20 years on a Waco television station. And he has other interests, which radiate outward from skills as an auctioneer.

We were visiting the other day and he mentioned what it was like to write a column. His work appears in other publications.

Johnny knew about the huge bull on the Herald's sign, which is becoming sort of a tourist attraction, either for those who are revisiting Cameron or who are passing through the first time.

One comment led to another and I invited him to try our columns for a few weeks to see how people in Central Texas like his view of agriculture and Cen-Tex life otherwise. Your comments are invited.

Henry Kissinger staged an unprecedented rebuttal to press intimation of his involvement in 1969 wiretappings early in the week in Austria. While the President was also in Austria, the Secretary of State requested a review of his earlier testimony by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which it granted immediately after his press conference.

Kissinger was furious. He asked that his honor be cleared so that he could negotiate further with the full esteem and confidence of the American government behind him. His testimony on wiretaps had onetime been heard by the Senate committee, but repeated comment in the press apparently pushed him into this showdown.

He wants to get on with diplomacy or he wants to resign. The atmosphere of Watergate has immersed the man who is probably the most effective state secretary in this century. Kissinger is compared to George C. Marshall and at least one other secretary in the caliber of his work. The work of detente with Peking and Moscow and negotiations in the Middle East are without precedent.

It is difficult to compare his work of winding down the world in a Nixon detente with any prior 20th century history. Almost all other negotiation before was based on dividing what was conquered or heading off confrontation of an accelerating Cold War.

That war is past. And Henry Kissinger has a great deal to do with piecing together the world for the 21st century.

He is one man whose absence, for whatever reason, would leave a considerable vacuum, possibly a disastrous one. If the inuendos, let alone the gray robes of Watergate shroud his performance, it may end an incredibly able, pragmatic and viable series of diplomatic triumphs for this country.

The U. S. Supreme Court ruled in a "class action" suit concerning public notice that legal publication must be greatly modernized, styled and improved to maintain effective notice.

The case is Eisen v. Carlisle and Jacquelin. And for six years 115 has been saying the same thing to the newspaper fraternity, who are either indifferent to legal notice or satisfied with its present gray format.

Work is underway to radically alter public notice in the print media. And now the motivation has been provided by the Supreme Court.

Perhaps the massive machinery of media research now will quicken to maintain the value of public notice in a format modern readers will appreciate.

Rogers Club Reactivates; Has Building Plan

Efforts to raise money for a community building are continuing at Rogers with the reactivation of the Rogers Community Service Club, first organized in 1956. The club began meeting this spring after not meeting for two years.

Members decided to work for a state charter and a committee was appointed to continue the work. Various other projects were reported at a meeting June 8 and new fund-raising projects for the community building were discussed.

Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Frank Tucker for her untiring work in operating a "flea market" every Saturday in the former drug store building on Main Street. It was pointed out that many others help with the market. Barber Hill is chairman of the flea market committee now and Ronnie Wimberley will be chairman this fall.

Clayton Clowers, president of the club, submitted his resignation due to illness. Filling of the vacancy was referred to the nominating committee.

Mrs. D. D. Ward, acting president, said the club still accepts donations of salable items to be used in the flea market.

People with items to be donated should contact Hill or Wimberley.

Mrs. Ward also stressed that memberships are still open to men and women in the larger Rogers Community area who want to help to build a better community.

Trustees Change Yoe Field Name, Ponder Disposition Of Property

School trustees were again in a name-changing mood for the second time in a row as they voted Monday night to re-name Yoe Field the L. Van Perkins Field. At their May meeting they changed Cameron Junior High School back to its original name of O. J. Thomas school.

Request for the change came from the Yoe Booster Club, with B. L. Miller making the request to the board. He related how Perkins, who was a high school coach, was instrumental in building the present field.

In other business the board held lengthy discussion on disposal or use of the Oxsheer Smith property, which was deeded to the school and reverted to the school upon Smith's death.

Supt. D. R. Dodson, who was attending his last meeting as superintendent, suggested the house be used as a dwelling for the school superintendent or used for an administrative building. He said the present superintendent's house needs a new roof and other repairs.

Board member Bill Hornung suggested selling the Smith house, using the proceeds on the field house and naming the new field house in honor of Smith.

A motion by Mrs. Betsy Brown to keep the Smith property and sell the other house died for lack of a second. The next motion was by John Henderson and it was to sell the Smith property by turning it over to a real estate agent with proceeds to be used

Burned Boy Needs Friends To Write

Doctors at Shriners Burn Institute in Galveston have suggested that cards and letters from Cameron friends would be a help for Kevin Noland who is undergoing treatment for burns received in an accident last month.

Kevin, a student at O. J. Thomas School, was severely burned in an accident at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Fisher, Route 3, Cameron. He is undergoing skin grafts at the Galveston hospital.

Cards may be addressed to Kevin Noland, Shriners Burn Institute, 610 Texas, Galveston, Texas.

New Project Seen For City

City councilmen, members of the city planning commission, and the Community Development Agency board met Monday evening to decide on a possible new program for Cameron to follow the completed urban renewal program.

The meeting resulted in agreement to prepare a program for the residential area from the south side of West 6th to the north side of West 8th, and from Crockett Street to the city limits. If funds are not available for the whole area, plans call for dropping back and reducing size of the project from the railroad tracks to Orchard Street.

Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has suggested that Cameron have a new program drawn up and approved by January 1 for possible federal building.

A. W. McCullin, CDA director, said bills are now in Congress awaiting action but no funds are available at the present time.

The Community Development Agency will prepare a basic plan for council and HUD approval including housing requirements, relocation, drainage, etc. McCullin said some of the basic work has been done under the Annual Arrangements Program which was never funded.

McCullin said he feels that the city will receive at least $123,000 per year for three years under the "hold harmless" clause, which is based on federal moneys received by the community in the past five years.

Town hall meetings will be held for the area residents and a house-to-house canvass will point out housing needs, income status, number in the household, etc.

McCullin said that as things presently stand there would be rehabilitation money available at three percent to rehab homes, and grant money would be available in some cases, including demolition of substandard structures.

The plan will include a dual-purpose park east of O. J. Thomas School, to be used by the school and area children. This was the part of the city's 20-year plan and the Annual Arrangements Program.

'Mystery' Man Survives Under 82-Car Train

The Milam County Sheriff's Department is seeking further identification of a man who was run over by an 82-car freight train Sunday at Buckholts, and was only slightly injured.

Sheriff Carl Black said the man gave his name as Arthur Wood James and said he was from Houston. However, a check by the sheriff's office with Missing Persons in Houston did not come up with a man fitting his description. The man said his parents live in Houston but the sheriff was unable to find any relatives there.

The man was lying on the track between the rails when the Santa Fe engineer saw him and was unable to stop. After the caboose cleared him, James got up and ran to a nearby highway, the sheriff said.

Black said the man was scratched on his shoulder and one arm but was otherwise unhurt. However, he was charged with being drunk and placed in the county jail.

The sheriff said the man was dressed in ragged pants, a ragged shirt and no shoes. His clothes were so ripped and torn by the train that Black said he wrapped James in a sheet at the hospital to take him to jail.

James could give no story about why or how he got to the railroad tracks in Buckholts.

TP&L Names Morrow New Local Manager

Larry Morrow of Taylor has been named manager for Texas Power & Light Company in the Cameron and Rockdale areas.

Morrow succeeds Henry M. Siebman, who is retiring after 39 years of service with TP&L. Siebman was manager in Cameron since 1947.

Morrow, a native of Kaufman, joined TP&L in its northern division in 1966 as a rural service advisor. He later became a commercial cooking specialist in the northern division, and since 1969 has been the Company's customer service representative in Taylor.

Morrow attended Kaufman public schools and was graduated from East Texas State University with a bachelor of science degree. He is married to the former Anita Pollock of Temple, and the couple has three children, Jonitta, 7; Jeffery, 3, and Jennifer, 9 months. The family is a member of the Baptist Church.

In Taylor, Morrow was active in the Taylor Jaycees and served as first and second vice-president of the Taylor Optimist Club. He was chairman of the Taylor Independence Festival and was scoutmaster of Troop 169 of the Capitol Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. He also was active in the American Legion and in United Way and Heart Fund campaigns.

While in Cameron, Siebman was president of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, Cameron Rotary Club and the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department. He was secretary and a board member of the Cameron Industrial Foundation and was active in United Way, Heart Fund and Cancer Crusade fund drives.

Siebman and his wife, Lois, plan to continue living in Cameron and on a small farm they own near the city. Cattle raising, fishing and a little travelling will take up most of their time, Siebman says.

Milano Coach Killed In 2-Car Mishap

Martin Salazar, 27, Milano high school athletic coach, was killed in a two-car traffic mishap at about 4:45 p.m. Friday approximately one mile north of Grandview in Johnson County.

Salazar was pronounced dead at the scene. Highway patrol reports said a man and woman riding in the second car were injured in the accident.

Salazar's car was southbound on IH 35W, while the other car was northbound on the same highway. The two cars were in collision when one apparently went out of control during a rainstorm and crossed the median, the reports said.

Salazar had been head football, basketball and track coach at Milano High School for the past four years. He was a native of Strawn, where his family still lives.

Milano School Supt. R. L. Porter said Salazar had been taking classes at North Texas State University in Denton for the summer and had been visiting his family in Strawn. He apparently was driving to Austin for a track meet when the mishap occurred.

County Votes On Extension Office

Discussion of the county Extension office took most of commissioners time when they met for a regular session Monday morning.

Outcome of the discussion was a motion to leave things as they are now except for one part-time secretary whose job will be terminated effective July 1.

A report was given by County Auditor John Andres showing the number of Extension personnel in neighboring counties and counties with populations similar to Milam County.

The report showed that Williamson County has a budget of $15,000 with one county agent, no assistant county agent, one home demonstration agent with no assistant, and one clerk. Burleson county had an agent, one assistant, one HD agent and one clerk; Coryell County one agent, one HD agent and one clerk; Lampasas one agent, one HD agent, and one clerk; Robertson County one agent, one assistant, and one HD agent;

Lee County an agent, one assistant, and one clerk.

Milam County has two agents, one assistant agent, two HD agents, and one full time and one part time clerk. Budget for the Extension Service in Milam County is now $20,167.20. If raises were granted as recommended by A&M Extension headquarters, budget would be $22,394.

Appearing in support of the Extension service were Carl Grothe and Reeves Brown. Grothe told commissioners if they could afford an air conditioned jail they could afford the agents. Commissioner LaVert McKinney pointed out that the new jail was being built because the old one had been condemned.

Grothe said loss of Extension personnel would hurt youths in the county in the 4-H program. "We need those people," he said. He noted that the county was "in the black" and County Judge O. B. Hardin replied that the county was in the black because commissioners try to control spending.

Harden asked Grothe if he would be in favor of the county's raising taxes, noting that the county's expenditures for the Extension service are "out of line with what other counties are doing."

Commissioner Dalton Caffey said the county has a program which other counties would like to have. He made a motion to leave the program as it is with the exception of the part-time secretary.

Also speaking for the program was Mrs. Wavy Charles, who said Milam is used by A&M as a pilot county for new programs they want to try out. She said Milam "is way ahead of other counties and should stay with a progressive program."

Commissioners tabled until Thursday decision on where space will be rented for the Extension office.

Thrust Of Government...

Beyond the Dale Bumpers upset win, two other significant gubernatorial votes in California tell of the sweeping revulsion Watergate is having on voters. In odd ways.

Almost record small primary turnouts in California favored Edmund Brown, Jr., son of the former Democratic governor, as Democratic nominee, and politically unknown Houston I. Flournoy as Republican nominee. Flournoy defeated the incumbent Republican lieutenant governor who is under indictment for perjury before a federal grand jury.

California legislators may invoke the hardest, hardline on lobbyists and campaign contributions, Christian Science Monitor notes.

Brown is a thirtyish lawyer who went to Yale Law School and was once a student in a Jesuit seminary.

This sounds a bit like the sweep that hit Texas high office in 1972 following the Sharpstown revelations and again shows the leadership response of Texans toward political reform.

Significance of the California developments is that Ronald Reagan, Republican California governor, is second to Gerald Ford as a front runner for the 1976 GOP presidential nomination. And California was President Nixon's home state until the mid-60s, and a source of political power during the 1968 and 1972 presidential campaigns.

Arkansas' Bumpers a 1-ready is being touted as a contender for a vice-presidential nomination among Democrats because of his 2-1 win over Senator Fulbright, 30 years in Washington.

Should the young Democrat Brown win in California, which is likely with light voting in what is now considered a tossup between him and Fournery, Reagan's political base is eroded for the 1976 race.

A whole gubernatorial choir of presidential voices is vocalizing these days as Washington lags under Watergate inertia. The tone of governors' conferences is that the thrust of government is turning back to the states, particularly modern states.

California voters suggest that.

Town Deserves Continuity...

We thank Cong. Poage for acknowledging Cameron is as progressive as any town in the 11th Congressional District.

Since the 11th now encompasses so many counties, as well as Temple, Killeen, Waco and a host of communities at least as large as Cameron, it is quite a compliment.

It's been obvious for a long time, but never more apparent than last weekend, starting Thursday night when Cameron spent itself momentarily on dedication, parade, dances, press tours and conferences, displays, whatever.

Why any community would "deserve to rest after 128 years" is an interesting observation, however. To be precise, it was because the community rested enough years in those 128 that we had so much to do the past decade.

The alternative, of course, was the fate of hundreds and even thousands of towns which vanished from the Rio Grande Valley to Canada because nobody really needed them any more.

We think a community deserves continuity as well as memory and grave yards.

BIG SPENDERS BALK AT BUDGET CONTROL

Rep. Floyd Spence (S.C.) "... While few of us fully understand the technical meanings and causes related to inflation, it is nevertheless significant that an overwhelming majority of the American people instinctively know where to place the blame. In January of this year, 74 percent of those responding to a Harris survey reported that the greatest single cause of inflation was Federal spending. "Recently both the House and the Senate overwhelmingly approved legislation which would at least serve as a tentative beginning step toward asserting congressional responsibility in the area of spending control. ...

"Sad to say, even this small step toward inflation control is being thwarted by inaction on the part of the conference committee which has been appointed to iron out the differences between House and Senate versions of this legislation. ...

"It has been nearly 3 months since the conference on budget reform have been appointed — the American people are waiting and watching. One of the possible legislative approaches which can be built upon this beginning step—is House Joint Resolution 720, the Curtis-Spence amendment. ...

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

We quote from an editorial in the Orangeburg Times and Democrat: "The Curtis-Spence amendment, in a nutshell, provides that whenever the Federal budget shows a deficit at the end of a fiscal year, an automatic surtax must be imposed to cover the deficit. The only condition under which an exception could be made would be if Congress by a three-fourths vote, declares a national emergency, or if there has been a formal declaration of war."

We quote Senator Curtis (Nebr.) "Congress is not going to enact such a proposal unless the people demand it." Big spenders are aware of citizen apathy.

White Planning Massive Vote Campaign For Election

Secretary of State Mark White, Jr., disturbed over low voter participation in recent elections, is planning a massive, coordinated get-out-the-vote campaign for the general election.

White indicated he will seek to harmonize efforts of business, labor organizations, educational groups, the news media and lobbying interests to improve the turnout.

As chief Texas election officer, White is studying election systems used in other states, and he has outlined preliminary plans for a bi-partisan fall drive to stir the voters to action.

He has asked State Sen. O.H. (Ike) Harris, Dallas Republican, to assist with the initial contacts with groups whose assistance will be sought.

Only 30 per cent of eligible Texans took part in the May 4 primaries, and far fewer voted in the June 1 runoff.

White hopes to get a new registration push going and to encourage businesses to devote part of their promotional budgets to "innovative" get-out-the-vote appeals. Labor, which traditionally conducts its own campaigns to get union members to the polls, will also be asked to join in the overall effort.

"People must be made aware of the danger of ignoring the political system," said White.

He said he may even recommend a system of sales or property tax credits for practicing voters.

REVISION "INSURANCE" SOUGHT — Sen. Grant Jones of Abilene wants legislative powers to amend the constitution extended — just in case the voters reject proposals of the Constitutional Convention.

Jones has offered a proposal which would give the legislature power to submit to voters constitutional revision proposals on an article-by-article basis.

The Abilene lawmaker argues the legislature has gained expert knowledge of the constitution while sitting as a revision commission.

DIVIDENDS DUE — Allstate Insurance Company will pay $4 million in dividends to auto policy holders whose policies expired between last October 3 and May 31, 1974.

The company bowed to State Insurance Board pressure in agreeing to pay the suspended dividends.

An attorney for the company said a court battle over the issue might have lasted for years. Distribution of the dividends will be made

"as soon as mechanically possible."

COURTS SPEAK — Life sentence for heroin sale was reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals because a paid informer who could have offered defense evidence left town and didn't testify.

In other cases, the Court:

* Ordered a new trial for a Dallas man on burglary charges.

* Ordered a new trial for a Houston man convicted of embezzling $40,000 and sentenced to life imprisonment.

* Reversed a sentence of a Houston man on charges he harassed a woman by telephone.

Austin and Lower Colorado River Authority face suit by 22 Fayette County landowners on plans for a coal-fired electric power plant near La Grange.

AG OPINIONS — Youngsters under 15 are not subject to criminal prosecution or juvenile proceedings for possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages. But those 15 and over are liable to criminal prosecution, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, the attorney general concluded:

* Whether a foundation holding land for donation to medical uses is eligible for tax exemption depends on facts bringing the group in guidelines laid down by courts.

* Parks and Wildlife Department can issue private bird shooting area licenses which will remain in effect until the following August 31.

* A requirement that dentures for welfare recipients be made in the Department of Corrections laboratory is invalid.

* A Texas Youth Council member is entitled to reasonable, actual expenses incurred in his hometown while on state business.

* The State Board of Control may provide labor and materials for remodeling office space for legislators and staffs not used for actual meetings of the legislature or its committee.

* Properly handled salary raises for county and precinct employees can be effective immediately and do not have to await the next regular budget hearing.

* Legislative Property Tax Committee can compel production of appraisal data from tax assessors and private individuals.

* Property conveyed to a municipal corporation but burdened with so many restrictions it can't really be used is not exempt from county property taxes.

HEARING PUT OFF — A hearing on an industrial waste dump proposed for Limestone County near Groesbeck has been postponed until a series of Texas Water Quality Board hearings on waste disposal are completed in November.

The applicant requested the delay. Legislators said all similar applications should be postponed until TWQB concludes its hearings.

SHORT SNORTS

The longest network Democratic fund-raising telethon will last from 9 p.m. June 29 to 6 p.m. June 30.

Holders of pennies have been urged to return them to circulation to avoid a penny supply problem.

Texas citrus industry representatives met with California growers and officials on interstate shipping and trade agreements.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

While it has always seemed to me they were taking up time that could have been used for something more interesting, the television network newscasters every evening always give a report on the day's stock market, how many shares were exchanged and now many points the average share rose or fell. To me this is about as interesting as a nationwide weather report on what the average temperatures was for all 50 states at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

However the other day something new crept in. Walter Cronkite reported that when a major bank in New York reduced its prime interest rate from 11.75 per cent to 11.60 per cent the stock market gained 19 points.

What this proves is that nobody listens to the networks' stock market report, because if they did somebody would figure out that if a drop in the interest rate of fifteen-one-hundredths of a cent can send the stock market up 19 points, think what dropping the interest rate a nickel would do.

If everybody in the country bought some stock a day before the interest rate came down, everybody would wind up rich, could pay off his bills and go back in debt at a much lower interest rate.

But times are too out of joint for something as simple as this. Why I read just the other day that a candidate had been indicted before an election. I never heard of that before. I thought you always waited till a man was in office and then indicted him. Then if he pleads guilty you give him a probated sentence so he can be free to write a book.

Say, I hope President Nixon is taking some experts along with him when he visits Russia so they can study capitalism. I understand the Russians, during the oil boycott which they secretly promoted, sold their oil right and left at double the usual price and made enough profit to pay for the wheat they bought from us a year earlier at about half price with money they borrowed from us.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

By Johnny Watkins

I am writing this column in a fit of confusion. Better still it might better be described as totally bewildered. It might be called a column of: "I told you so."

Man is going to the dogs, literally. Many times I have come in from a hard day at the arena of making a decent sort of a living and found my old big-mouth dog wagging his tail as if he was glad to see me. He was perhaps in my business; the only living, warm-blooded animal that whole day that really was delighted in seeing me; (at least the only that had a tail wagging delight in seeing me.)

Many's the time I have been working with every muscle straining to dig a post hole in droughty soil, and there in the shade is my old big-mouth sleeping, occasionally snapping at a fly, scratching, and not a worry muscle working. I would occasionally shout at him just to let him know that life ain't all pleasure. He would sit upright, look around and drop back to sleep. We would head home and he would trot right along, stop and take a swim in the tank, shake, then proceed to the house where Mama would feed him about as good as she did me, even though it was after I ate.

It occurred to me that man is working about twenty minutes of every day to support that rascal. He sleeps, chases rabbits, growls at strangers, fights an occasional fellow sleeping dog and eats that which man gives him, which is usually balanced to the hilt.

The average dog lives to be about ninety. I've concluded that a dog's life is to be envied.

My reason for disillusionment is that Roy Parcus, Cattle Order Buyer for Rosebud, stopped in my office at Robinson today. He had with him a TWX Market Report from Omaha, Nebraska, the largest stockyard in the world. It said as follows: One load of one thousand pound choice steers stayed in the yards all day yesterday afternoon and could not get a bid on them. Late yesterday afternoon they were sold for thirty cents a pound to a dog food manufacturer.

"Move over Spot. I'm going to eat with you from now on. You're eating better than I am now."

That's another ham in the smokehouse.

Bollworm Egg Lay Forecast

By Bill McCutchen

Each year Dr. Charles Cole, Area Entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service furnishes us with a chart forecasting rapid increase in bollworm egg lay, this information has been quite accurate in the past and invaluable as it serves to alert producers to times to watch for possible outbreaks.

The 1974 Bollworm population forecast calls for heavy egg lay on June 6-10, July 6-10, August 4-8, and September 3-7. The July egg lay is usually the critical one for Milam County producers. If we can get by this one we can usually avoid a late season control program.

Some farmers, ranchers and other have been believers in the moon cycle for a long time and the moon cycle does control the bollworm egg lay.

Heavy egg lay starts about 2 day after full moon in almost every instance.

Sorghum Midge
Grain sorghum producers

with grain sorghum blooming at this time or later should be especially watchful for damaging Midge populations.

Economic loss occurs when you have over 2 Midge per head. First application should be made when approximately 25 to 30% of the heads have just begun to bloom at the tip and sufficient adult Midge are present.

Harvest High Quality Hay
With increased production and harvesting costs for hay this year, producers in Milam county should do everything possible to make certain their hay is of high quality.

There are two main factors for producing high quality hay: high rates of fertilization and harvesting at an early stage of growth.

Fertilizer is a major cost for producing high quality hay. Due to increased costs and limited supplies of fertilizer, each producer should make a special effort to utilize fertilizer efficiently by harvesting hay at the correct stage of growth.

As hay crops begin to mature, quality begins to decline. Most hay crops should be harvested before seed heads begin to form. Plants like Coastal bermudagrass, which produce no seed heads, should be harvested at 28-30 days of growth.

Costs for fuel, equipment, wire, twine and other inputs have also increased considerably during the past year, thus raising harvest expenses. In addition, many of these items are in limited supply. This makes it all the more important to harvest high quality hay.

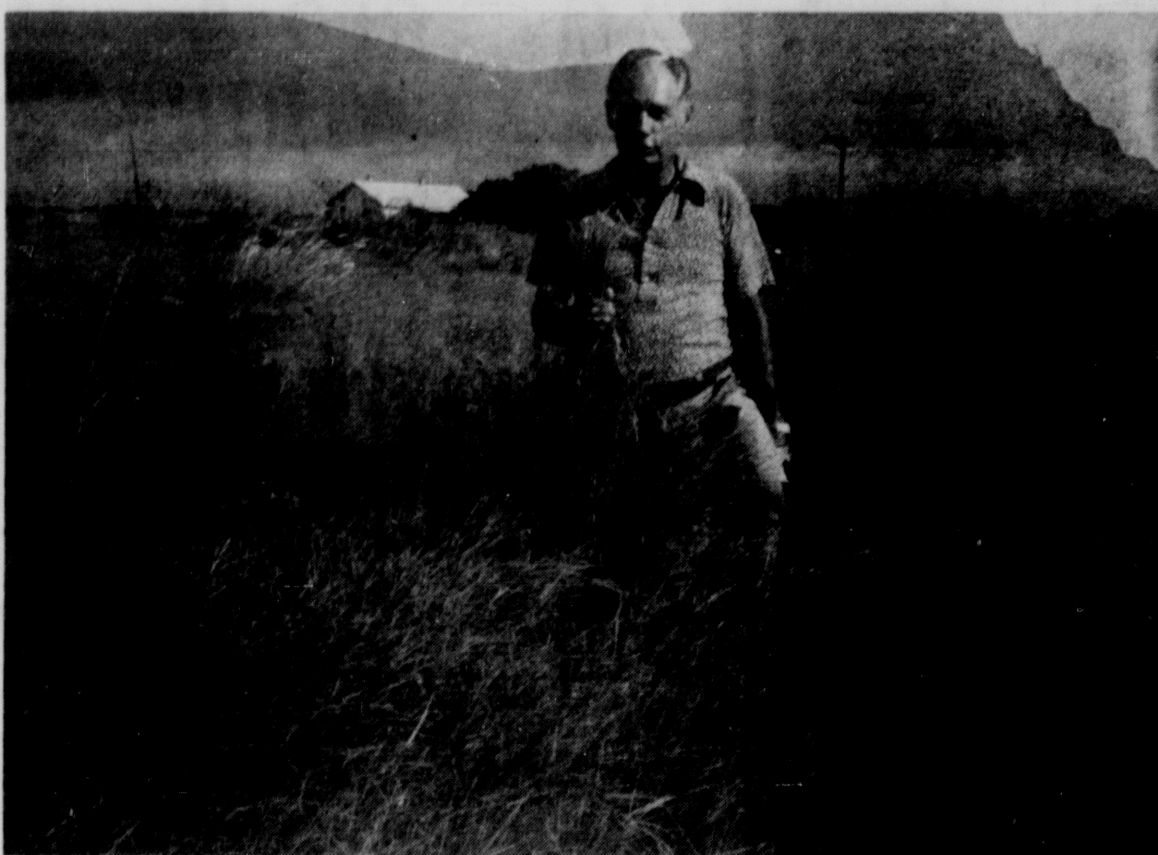

Some people believe that "hot cross buns" will keep for a year without becoming moldy, and hang them up for good luck!

ZIMMERLY SELECT Bermuda is shown by D. B. Hensley of Cameron in a field of jet selection from Zimmerly Select on the McCormick Farm at Rogers. Twenty-four degrees and 40 mph winds in February, burned in March, the Bermuda has made an amazing recovery. 250 pounds of 24-12-0 was used on the field.

4-H'ers Win Places At Brenham Show

At the Show held at Brenham on June 8, 3 4-H'ers showed their Brown Swiss and Guernsey heifers. Sheri Spence of Rockdale, exhibited her Guernsey heifer, winning 1st place, classified blue ribbon and participated in the Dairy Showmanship contest.

Showing their Brown Swiss heifers, Peter Riola placed his heifer 3rd and classified blue ribbon and Gery Hollas placed his heifer 2nd place, classified blue ribbon. Peter and Gery participated in the Dairy Judging Contest.

Conservation Money Restored To Farmers

AUSTIN--Agriculture Commissioner John C. White recently reminded farmers that $19,330,000 in soil conservation funds has been restored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to Texas for water and land preservation measures.

White said the West Texas drought and dry conditions in other parts of the state make the funds especially necessary to improve soil practices that will decrease erosion and maintain fertility.

The Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) is administered by Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices throughout the state. Those farmers and ranchers who are seeking assistance in soil saving measures should contact their local offices, White said.

"Land previously set aside for conservation has been added to this year's farming acreage because of the increased demand for exports," White said. "We'll have to develop even more acreage in years to come if we are to keep up with the world's need for food."

Pointing to diminishing water supplies in West Texas, White said, "We must maintain and develop the kind of soil and water conservation measures that have made West Texas a fertile area."

White said funds are also available to livestock and poultry producers on a 50 percent cost-sharing basis for construction of animal waste management systems. The facilities must be substantially completed by Dec. 31 to qualify.

In most counties cost-sharing is authorized for runoff control systems, aerobic and anaerobic lagoons and liquid manure tanks.

Purpose of the facilities is to prevent or reduce water, land and air pollution in areas where animal wastes constitute a hazard.

Future Use Of 2, 4, 5-T Studied

The American consumer would be come the ultimate loser and agriculture the immediate loser if future use of 2, 4, 5, -T is limited or banned, according to a researcher with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. Joseph Schuster, head of Texas A&M University's range science department and a TAES scientist, emphasized that future use of the herbicide that is widely used to control brush and weeds on rangeland is in jeopardy.

"This herbicide is highly effective in controlling noxious woody plants on rangelands and forests. It has a record of relative safety covering more than two decades of use. Now, this vital product is awaiting a public hearing called by the Environmental Protection Agency. Action following the hearing remains to be determined," the scientist added.

Costs of such agricultural items such as meat, wool, mohair, and forest products are likely to climb if use of 2, 4, 5-T is banned or limited, Schuster said.

What is happening concerning this herbicide points up the risk to other important agricultural herbicides, regardless of their safety records, Schuster continued.

"The general public needs to understand more about the vital uses of each product, their safety records, how to use the products effectively, as well as possible potential dangers. The public should be concerned with protecting the environment, but citizens should depend on scientists and others trained in the field to determine the hazards involved in using herbicides," he added.

Schuster emphasized that our country's economic strength and its ability to produce needed food, fiber, energy, timber and other resources are sometimes weakened by demands made in the name of protecting citizens and the environment.

Estate prices Up... Peanuts More Popular... Demand for Cotton Increases... Watermelons on Market... Hay Cutting Underway.

FARM REAL estate prices jumped over the United States by 21 per cent during the past year, from $233 to $280 an acre. Although the per-acre prices may be higher in some areas of Texas, latest figures show Texas farm real estate prices climbed by a more modest nine per cent. The jump was highest in Colorado, 33 per cent, and Pennsylvania was second with 31 per cent, followed by Alabama, Iowa and South Carolina with 30 per cent.

PEANUTS AND PEANUT BUTTER are being consumed by Americans more than ever, the USDA reports. There were 524 million pounds of shelled peanuts used in edible products from August through December, 1973, an eight per cent increase over the same period for 1972. Experts think the increased demand for peanuts came because of the higher prices for beef, dairy products and poultry. Growers received about two cents a pound more for peanuts in 1973 than they did the previous year... Peanut planting in Texas is more than 35 per cent complete, but moisture is short for planting in the Cross Timbers area.

COTTON CONSUMPTION is up over the world by about two million bales, to about 59 million. The carryover in the United States August 1 is expected to be 3 1/2 million bales, below a previous USDA estimate because export volume now is expected to increase. Cotton planting in Texas is about 70 per cent complete, compared to 75 per cent at the same time last season. Planting is making rapid progress on irrigated fields on the High and Low Plains, but more rain is needed on the High Plains to complete planting. Boll weevils and flea hoppers are reported in cotton in the southern half of the State.

WATERMELONS are ripening in the Coastal Bend area where labor and truck shortages have been reported. Watermelon harvest is expected to begin in the San Antonio-Winter Garden area, according to Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, and vines are in the bloom stage in East Texas... Sweet corn and tomatoes are beginning to ripen in Central Texas, and harvest of peppers, eggplant, squash, potatoes and cucumbers continues on the Upper Coast. Squash and cucumber harvest is over in the Coastal Bend and sweet corn and carrot harvest is almost over in that area.

HAY CUTTING is underway all across Texas, and yields of this first cutting are reported good. Prospects for a second cutting are good in East Texas but most of the western half of the State needs rain for the second crop. Rainfall during the week ending June 1 helped many areas in East Texas and Southeast Texas. Areas north of Beaumont were reported to have had five inches during the week.

NUMBER OF broiler chicks placed and the number hatched were down slightly during the week ending May 25. There were 3,839,000 placed, which is two per cent below the same time last year and also for the previous week. Chicks hatched totaled 3,942,000, down one per cent from a year ago and two per cent below the previous week. Eggs set for broiler production numbered 4,584,000 which was four per cent below a year ago.

Blueberries Tried For Texas Crop

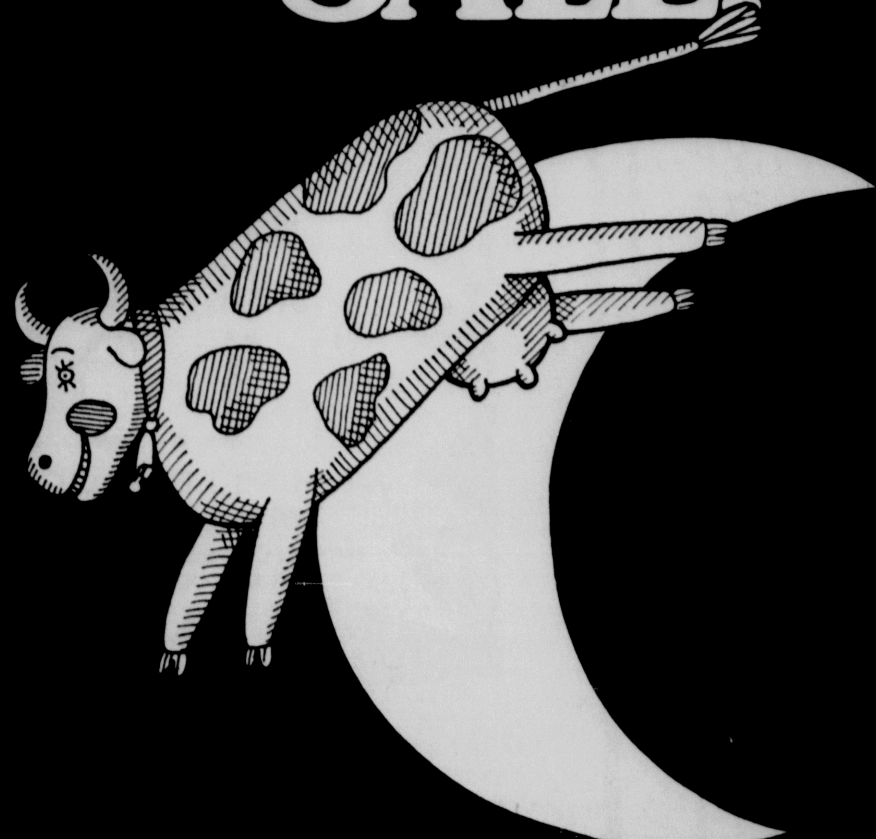

Through the work of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station a new crop is coming on the scene that seems to have a lot of potential. That crop is blueberries.

Work has been underway since 1966 to check the performance of various varieties as well as to see just how well blueberries grow in Texas. Research plots were put in at Buna and Magnolia Springs in Jasper County, and a test plot has just been planted at Canton in Van Zandt County.

"Our overall objective was to see just how well blueberries would perform in this part of Texas," said Dr. Hollis Bowen, associate professor of pomology with TAES at Texas A&M University. "We were especially interested in blueberries since few fresh blueberries are marketed west of the Mississippi River. Thus, there seems to be an untapped market for the product."

According to Bowen, most blueberries are grown in the Southeastern United States. The performance of the research project in Texas is being compared with blueberries grown in Arkansas and Georgia.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN Many people who plan to move do so in the summer. If you're one of those who will be packing up and heading for new territory soon, be sure you select a reliable moving company to transport your belongings. Because whether it's a cut-glass punch bowl or a well-used tricycle, your household goods probably would be hard to replace.

Attorneys in our Consumer Protection Division warn that some "hot haulers," or illegal moving companies, are in operation and that dealing with them could result in some problems.

For one thing, many of the illegal movers cannot or do not offer proper insurance for your goods.

For another thing, consumers who unwittingly deal with a bootleg moving company could possibly be liable for prosecution under the Motor Carrier Act, enforced by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

There are three classes of moving companies: (1) unregulated ones that can move goods from their base city to another; (2) companies licensed by the Texas Railroad Commission to move goods anywhere within the State; and (3) companies licensed by the Interstate Commerce Commission to move goods between states.

Spokesman for the Railroad Commission say that many interstate movers have Texas representatives who are also licensed as intrastate movers themselves. If you plan to move from Wichita Falls to El Paso, for example, you will need a company licensed by the Railroad Commission as an intrastate carrier. Picking a company from the telephone book, as many people do, is no guarantee that you'll get a properly licensed mover.

The best way is to check with the Railroad Commission to see if the movers you are interested in are listed as certified companies or as designated agents for such companies.

In order for a company to be certified, it must prove the need for increased service.

Public hearings are held and, if the need is demonstrated, a permit can be granted by the Railroad Commission.

Specialized carriers holding certificates or permits for the transportation of household goods must adhere to certain requirements.

If a mover says offhandedly, "I'll move you to Dallas for $200," beware. He's not a licensed mover. If he were, he would have to take a look at your goods, give you a written estimate of the moving cost, weigh his truck both before and after loading your goods, and check the weight against a fixed tariff rate to determine the actual cost.

He would also have to notify you if the cost exceeded the original estimate by 10 per cent or $25.00 whichever is greater. And, in addition, he would have to inventory all of your belongings and give you a copy of the inventory.

HERALD STATIONERY — For your office supply needs, if we don't have what you need, we will order it for you.

Watch Out For Poisonous Plants

AUSTIN Those long, slender shoots from the oleander plant sure are tempting when you're looking for a skewer for your weiner roast, but using them could be a fatal mistake.

The oleander is a deadly poisonous plant. There have been several instances of death to persons who contaminated their food with oleander skewers.

It is one of several poisonous plants in Texas which can kill you, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

Here are a few plants to watch for:

-- The horsetail, a primitive, rush-like plant found in swamps and stream beds which is also known as the scouring rush, pipes, joint grass of foxtail. Although this plant is not likely to be eaten by humans, the young shoots have been mistaken for wild asparagus.

-- Fly poison, a plant which is sometimes mistaken for the wild onion because of its multi-layered bulb. Found in deep East Texas in sandy bogs and open woods, this extremely toxic plant lacks an onion-like smell. Hands should be washed thoroughly after handling this plant because of the possibility of poisoning yourself by touching your hands to your mouth.

-- Bouncing bet, found in waste areas, roadsides and ditches. Its mucilaginous juice, which can be used as a soap substitute because it lathers, causes severe digestive irritation.

-- Poison hemlock, a potent killer imported from Europe. It is found in waste areas, fields and roadsides. It bears a superficial resemblance to the parsley family, particularly the wild carrot.

-- Water hemlock, found in swamps, stream banks and set, low ground. A single bite of the roots of this plant can kill a man. Unfortunately, this plant resembles many member of the parsley family to which it belongs.

-- Dogbane, found in open ground, stream banks, and borders of woods. This plant looks something like a milkweed and contains a milky juice. It is related to the oleander.

-- Horse chestnut, found in woods, stream banks and bottomlands. The starchy meat of the nut has a toxic substance which works on the nervous system.

There are many wild plants which can serve as a nutritious supplement to the outdoorsman's diet, and there are several books which can tell which ones are safe.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials advise that this literature be consulted by would-be wild food gatherers. It could save their lives.

Family Honors Luecke On 80th Birthday In Florida

Frank M. G. Luecke, 80, has been honored in a four-generation birthday celebration at the Venice, Fla., residence of his oldest son, Charles M. F. Luecke.

Now a resident of Montana, Luecke acknowledged gifts and congratulations on his 80th birthday from about a dozen of the family, including a great grandson, Jackson Cooper Stookey, of Leesburg, Ind.

Relatives from four states attended the weekend celebration at the Lueckes', 255 Esplanade N., the Venice Gulf Shores.

They included: Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Luecke, of Warsaw, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stookey, of Leesburg, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Larson, of South Bend Ind., Miss Etta Luecke and Miss Jean Larson, both of Milwaukee, Wisc., and Frank M. Luecke, of Cameron.

Congratulatory calls came from John Luecke, of Boulder, Colo., Charles McQuitty, of St. Joseph, Mo., and Mrs. E. Myles Glenn, of Kalamazoo, Mich., among others.

Four of the group know careers in communications: Miss Larson is vice president of Roa Films, Inc., of Milwaukee, a subsidiary of the Milwaukee Journal; Mrs. Larson is women's editor of the South Bend Tribune; and Mrs. Charles Luecke is formerly with U. S. Information Agency, Department of State, Washington. F. M. Luecke is Herald publisher-editor.

Luecke is a retired cheese manufacturing executive. His career spanned about half a century in cheese processing and manufacturing throughout the Midwest.

Two sons, Charles and Kenneth started early training in the industry, but later went into separate sales and marketing careers.

Eric, a medieval King of Sweden, was purported to be able to control the winds with a turn of his cap!

Baptist Leaders Hit Straus Statement

DALLAS

"Cheap attempts of gambling proponents to arouse religious prejudice against Baptists," were hit here today by the Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The 192-member board -- which represents more than 2-million Texas Baptists-- lashed gambling proponents for an "attack on our Executive Secretary, Editor of the Baptist Standard and President of the BGCT."

The statement during the board's quarterly meeting came in response to a statement by Joe Straus Jr. of San Antonio, who was co-chairman of the Texas Citizens for Pari-Mutuel Horse Racing, in which he accused Baptist leaders of "blackmail" and "bullying tactics" and an effort to "impose their moral beliefs on generations of Texans to come."

The unanimously adopted
statement said the charges
"reveal that they are ignoring the fact that many people from all walks of life and religious persuasion joined Baptists in resistance to the pari-mutuel push."

"The opposition is based not on a narrow sectarian morality but on a clear evidence of obviously destructive social consequences which result from legalized
gambling.

All three of the top Baptist leaders have taken strong stands against pari-mutuel
gambling.

GI Bill Eligibility

Extended A Month

Educational assistance checks for some 150,000 veterans whose G. I. bill eligibility was extended by one month will reach them by late June or earlier, the Veterans Administration announced today.

On May 31, the day the
G. I. education entitlement expired for veterans discharged between Jan 31, 1955, and July 1, 1966, the President signed PL 93-293 granting a 30-day extension to the eight years entitlement veterans normally have.

Long before the legislation was passed, VA accomplished all possible preliminary work for the speedy service in anticipation that some form of extension would be passed by Congress and approved by the President.

In addition to the May 31
law, a supplemental apporportion is needed to fund the increases, but speedy Congressional action is expected on the President's request for the necessary funds.

Many people once believed that Satan would walk the earth in the guise of a black cat!

A PHONEY CHARGE

Texas Southern Track Coach, Dave Bethany, continued an old, immature and disruptive custom by screaming "Racism" when his Houston-based team was ruled against at the NCAA Championship meet in Austin. Every disappointment, according to certain Blacks, should be washed away - publicly - with the excuse he or his have been done in because of skin color.

How, in the name of reason, is there ever going to be peace among athletes as long as so-called leaders divide hearts and souls with the counterfeit charge of "Racism"? There are disappointments in sports, as in life. The sooner certain Blacks quit using that tin-horn excuse for failure, the quicker all people are going to put prejudice where it belongs: out.

Then, athletics can be what they should be for Americans a fun way of escaping the pressures of making a living, a diversion from the tirades of politics and a harmless place for friendly competitors to blow off steam.

Racism is a mean, ugly, finger-pointing word. Those who throw it around loosely are most always irresponsible and guilty of its connotations, themselves.

About Bethany's specific charge: Since college track, like basketball, is dominated by Blacks, just whom does he feel would benefit from a "Racist" action to hold back his team? One with fewer Blacks? Horsefeathers!

JOHNNY MITCHELL

Johnny Mitchell, the Galveston Kid, who left the Seawall to become a popular Houston Oil Millionaire, salutes his Beloved Hometown one more time Friday, Saturday and Sunday June 21-

23. Johnny, and his Galveston friends are throwing a second annual Darrell Royal Invitational Golf Tournament to benefit the local Boys Clubs. The guest golfers who will challenge Saint Darrell on the Galveston Country Club course reads like a Who's Who of football and entertainment.

For starters, Alabama's Bear Bryant, John McKay of USC, Bill Yeoman of Houston, Arkansas's Frank Broyles and UT's Mike Campbell will be on hand. Then, there will be Mickey Mantle, Bobby Layne, King Hill, John Hadl, Lynn Dickey, Edd Hargett and Mike Ditka.

Throw in some of Royal's Country and Western Cronies like Country Charlie Pride, Willie Nelson, Roy Clark and Tom T. Hall and a fellow drawn to Big Names is going to have a field day. Hollywood's Famed Phil Harris, a personal friend of Mitchell's and Texas Attorney General John Hill, are also set to tee it up on The Island.

Then Johnny Mitchell will bring along his son-in-law, Vernon Hallbeck, the former TCU star and coach, who used to give Royal fits on the Blue Chip Schoolboy Recruiting Trail. As noted, before, Hallbeck gave up a promising coaching career to become a successful Houston Real Estate developer.

Boating TIPS

From the Marine Division
Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp.

SAFETY

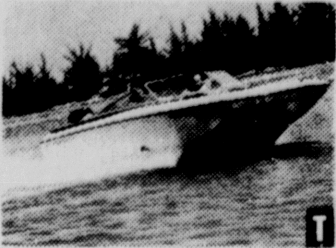

Safety on the water is just as important as safety on land.

Every time you take your family boating, take a few very important minutes to check these necessary safety precautions.

Check your fuel supply. If possible, keep a small reserve on board for emergency situations.

Make sure your lifesaving equipment is in good condition and each person aboard has access to a life jacket.

Never overload your boat. You may think your boat is big enough for those few extra guests. But it's much wiser to adhere to the number recommended by the capacity designation on your boat.

When out on the waterways, obey speedlimits and maintain proper traffic patterns.

Before towing water skiers, be sure your boat is away from other vessels and obstructions.

Always be on guard for other boats. You never can tell what the other guy's going to do.

Boating safety is every boater's responsibility. By being your own boat safety expert, you assure everyone on board a fun time on the water.

General Revenue Sharing provides federal funds directly to local and state governments. The law requires each government to publish a report of its plans for the use of these funds to inform its citizens and to encourage their participation in deciding how the money ought to be spent. Within the purposes listed, your government may change this spending plan.
